LOUISIANA WATERCOLOR SOCIETY

From the President

Welcome to the Louisiana Watercolor Society's 49th Annual International Exhibition. What an amazing exhibit of talent and skill! I always look forward to seeing the paintings in person and the entries this year represent an exceptional quality of work and diversity of subject matter.

We are privileged to have Michael Holter, NWS, TWSA as our judge and juror this year. He had the difficult task of choosing 74 paintings to be included in the show and assigning the Awards. Many thanks for helping to make our 49th exhibit a success and for conducting a challenging and exciting workshop.

Thank You to all of the artists who participated and Congratulations to those accepted and to the Award winners! LWS welcomes six new LWS signature members this year and E. Jane Stoddard who achieved LWS Master signature status.

An event of this magnitude does not just happen, it involves the time and effort of many individuals who work to insure the success of the exhibit.

Thank You to the Show Chairs; Joette Leblanc and Jan Wilken, Installation Committee; Kathy Stone and Joette LeBlanc, Refreshments Committee; Diane Newman and Rita Congemi. Thanks to Monica Bishara, our Treasurer who also maintains the LWS webpage and serves as our data gatherer and to Annie Strack, who manages our Facebook page.

A special Thank You to the LWS Board and committee members (and their spouses) for their dedication and numerous hours spent throughout the year to make the exhibition a continued success, and to Louise Hansen for her graphic design expertise in producing this beautiful catalog.

We are grateful to all of our Sponsors, who provide donations that allow us to distribute valuable awards each year – I encourage you to visit their websites and discover all they have to offer.

LWS gratefully recognizes Karen Lodrig and Place St. Charles for providing their support and exceptional location each year.

Thank you all. We are deeply grateful for your continued participation and look forward to next year.

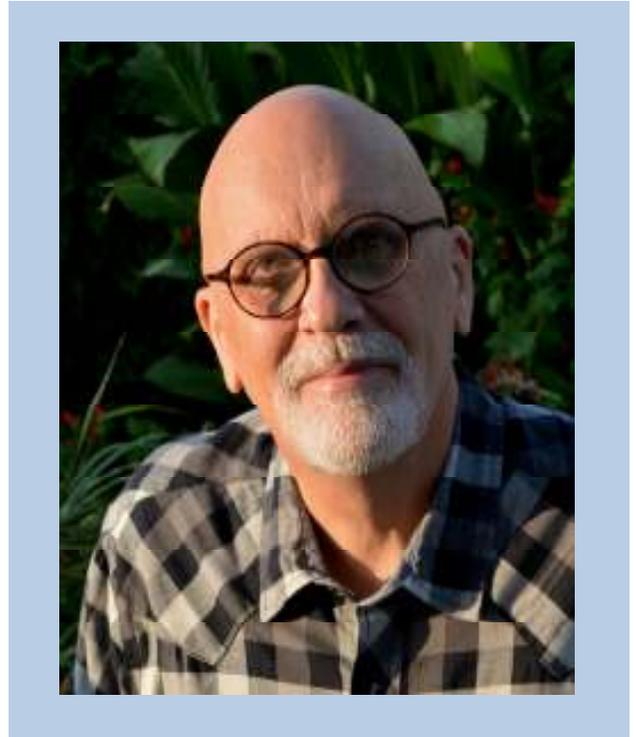

Claudia LeJeune

Juror's Statement

Michael Holter NWS, TWSA

Thank you, Louisiana Watercolor Society, for allowing me the honor of being the juror for the 49th Annual International Exhibition.

The paintings submitted represent some of the finest work being produced in watercolor today. You all should be very proud to be part of such a wonderful exhibition.

Judging what work to select for the show is a very difficult task. When I go about the process I like to separate my personal and aesthetic preferences from the hard facts that make up the creation of a work of art. Although the rules of art are meant to be—and often are—broken, they are a guide to the jurist. Principles of design being foremost in the early stages of selection. How the artist incorporates the fundamentals along with the techniques and workmanship usually bring the cream to the top (so to speak). Eventually the final decision is a combination of all of the skills the artist brings to the work run through the filter that the jurist brings to the table. I believe the work selected is an excellent representation of the high standard the Louisiana Watercolor Society is known for and I hope you enjoy the exhibition.

The Qiang people are one of the oldest ethnic groups in China. After a historical change, it is now scattered in the valleys of southwest and northwest China. Puxigou, Li County, Aba Prefecture, Sichuan Province, is one of the Qiang people's settlements. The old man Mr. Meng is happy and strong and lives here. He has a complete Qiang culture museum, also runs an inn, and occasionally goes out to the mountains to play a movie and TV role. When I first met Mr. Meng I was very touched. So I used the brushstrokes of Chinese calligraphy and some methods of Chinese painting to paint this watercolor portrait into a realistic form.

The real purpose is to leave some literary anthropological literary memories in the face of change. Therefore, it pays attention to the expression of national characteristics, home textiles, sun embroidered collars and Qiang decorative colors. The Qiang people advocate silverware, while the silver condenses the trade history of world and China, hence the name "silver earrings".
